

HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> Summary

UNLIMITED Access to a World Class Collection for One LOW Annual Rate!

Enhance Your Political Science Research Today!

What You'll Find in HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub>...

* Four centuries of research covering:
Political Science ~ International Relations ~ Law
Criminal Justice ~ Public Policy ~ Government ~ History ~ Business

* All material FROM INCEPTION,
FULLY-SEARCHABLE, and in PDF format, including all charts, graphs, pictures, photographs, and footnotes

* More than 1,100 periodicals now participating

* All U.S. Treaties and Agreements, whether in-force, expired, or yet-to-be officially published

* Every published U.S. Supreme Court decision as it appears in the official U.S. Reports

Also Available:

- *Presidential Library
- *Federal Legislative Histories
- * U.S. Federal Register & Code of Federal Regulations
- * Official Opinions of the U.S. Attorney General
- * Legal Classics Library

A Brief History of HeinOnline...

Winner of the Best New Product Award+ and the Best Commercial Website Award++

Over the course of 80 years, William S. Hein & Co., Inc. has established itself as a leading preservation publisher and become the world's largest distributor of legal periodicals, earning vast respect within the library community.

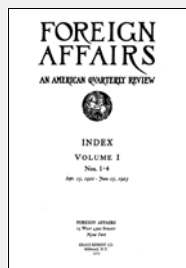

Working closely with Cornell Information Technologies (Cornell University), Hein set out in the late 1990's to create the world's largest collection of image-based (PDF), fully-searchable periodicals from inception. After close consultation with JSTOR as both publishers developed their respective databases, the project moved forward and HeinOnline was born.

In only a short time, HeinOnline has far exceeded expectations. Subscribers to HeinOnline span more than 150 countries, and not only include every ABA-accredited law school and top law firms in the U.S., but also many universities, corporations, courts, high schools, and other institutions in 3200+ locations worldwide.

As a result of inquiries from dozens of colleges and universities without law schools, HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> has been developed as an affordable, complementary product to your other online databases. Let HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> expand the depth of your research today!

+2001—American Assoc. of Law Libraries    ++2002—International Assoc. of Law Libraries

HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub>'s Library Collections

The Journal Library . . .

Academic journals provide a wealth of information regarding law and law-related developments and issues, as well as in-depth analyses of important legal decisions. Unlike other online databases, the HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> Journal Library is comprehensive, beginning with the VERY FIRST ISSUE EVER PUBLISHED of hundreds of periodical titles. Altogether, more than three centuries-worth of periodical research is available!!

This Library is divided into multiple library modules, giving institutions the flexibility of subscribing to the entire Library OR to one or more of the collection's subsets. Altogether, more than 1,100 journals are now participating, with dozens of new journals joining every year.

The U.S. Supreme Court Library . . .

The decisions of the United States Supreme Court stand as the country's rule of law and are published officially in the bound volumes of the U.S. Reports. HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> is the first online database to provide an image-based, fully-searchable backfile of ALL the official U.S. Reports volumes and ALL preliminary print volumes and slip opinions, which remain in the collection even after they have been published in the official bound volumes.

HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub>'s U.S. Supreme Court Library also includes books and periodicals on the Court, adding value to what is already an indispensable resource for any researcher of Supreme Court decisions.

The Treaties and Agreements Library . . .

Treaties in Force
A List of Treaties and Other International Agreements of the United States in Force
on January 1, 2003

One of the major sources of international law, treaties are formal agreements between countries that, according to Article VI of the U.S. Constitution, are binding and should be regarded as the “supreme law of the land”. The HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> Treaties and Agreements Library includes ALL treaties - whether currently in-force treaties, expired treaties, or yet-to-be published treaties, plus explanatory documents issued by the Department of State spelling out the ramifications of each as they are officially published.

This collection includes the official United States Treaties and Other International Agreements set (commonly referred to as “the Blue set”), the Treaties and International Acts Series (TIAS), and all unpublished treaties that Hein has been able to obtain through the Freedom of Information Act. The HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub> Treaties and Agreements Library also contains earlier treaty sets (such as Bevens’s Treaties & Other International Agreements), treaty guides and indexes (including the complete set of Treaties in Force), and treaty books and texts. Additional publications related to U.S. treaties are also included in this one-of-a-kind online collection.

Multiple searching options enable the researcher to search for a treaty using a great number of criteria, including treaty number, country, parties to agreement, signature date, and more, making HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub>'s Treaties and Agreements Library the most user-friendly, in-depth treaty collection ever published online!

---

The Presidential Library . . .

HeinOnline<sub>PoliSci</sub>'s Presidential Library includes Public Papers of the Presidents of the United States, along with other important documents related to many of the Presidents throughout the course of United States history.

---

The Value of HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> . . .

---

Cutting-Edge Technology

HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> is built on the latest version of Dienst Technology, an open architecture for distributed digital libraries. The document structure of Dienst embraces documents of different types and is currently in use in such digital libraries as the Networked Computer Science Technical Reference Library, Open Archives Initiative, Cornell University Library's Making of America Collection, and others.

HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> also uses impeccably high standards when it comes to the quality of images included. In fact, William S. Hein & Co., Inc.'s reputation for producing the highest quality images has led the Library of Congress in Washington, DC to use the Company's images when developing their own collections.

Ease of Use

HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> is designed to be used with very little training. Its intuitive, web-browser-based user interface was developed in conjunction with a team of librarians.

Access to HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> is governed by IP address range and/or username and password, allowing for simultaneous multi-user access in every library. Our commitment to continually develop the user interface and the underlying digital library technology driving HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> will ensure its long-term viability for years to come.

A Real Advantage Over Hardcopy

HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> dramatically improves accessibility that was only imaginable just a few years ago. Among the many valuable features are:

- * Multiple searching capabilities
- * Direct access by official citation
- * Electronic table of contents
- * Volumes rendered as exact page images, and searchable, displayable, and copyable full text
- * Multiple indexing

Affordable for All Researchers

Currently, there are various HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> packages available. Annual subscription prices are based on the size of your institution, and the HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> package you select. All subscriptions, though, offer unlimited access and printing from HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> for only one low annual rate.

Free trial access is always encouraged so you can choose the HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> package most appropriate for your institution.

Combining its image-based format with coverage found nowhere else, HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> is a one-of-a-kind resource that has benefited hundreds of research institutions around the globe.

We welcome you to become a part of the future of research. Visit us today at http://heinonline.org!

For more details, please contact:

Tami Rein

800/828-7571, extension 101 (toll-free)

716/883-8100 (fax)

trein@wshein.com

HeinOnline<sup>PoliSci</sup> is a product of William S. Hein & Co., Inc.

Law Publisher / Serial & Subscription Agent / Micropublisher / New & Used Law Books / Preservation Printer / Electronic Legal Research Provider
1285 Main Street, Buffalo, New York 14209 ~ Phone: (716) 882-2600 ~ Toll-free phone: (800) 828-7571 ~ Fax (716) 883-8100
E-Mail: marketing@wshein.com ~ Company Web Site: www.wshein.com ~ HeinOnline: <http://heinonline.org>

