HeinOnline's U.S. Presidential Library holds nearly 500,000 pages and includes such titles as Messages and Papers of the Presidents, Public Papers of the Presidents, CFR Title 3 (Presidents), Weekly Compilation of the Presidential Documents, and other documents relating to U.S. presidents.

Messages and Papers of the Presidents is a 22-volume set beginning with George Washington and concluding with Herbert Hoover. The messages of the presidents of the United States annual, veto, and special are among the most interesting, instructive and valuable contributions to the public literature of our Republic. They discuss from the loftiest standpoint nearly all the great questions of national policy and many subjects of minor interest which have engaged the attention of the people from the beginning of our history, and so constitute important and often vital links in their progressive development.

Public Papers of the Presidents begins with Herbert Hoover and concludes with George W. Bush. They have been compiled and published by the Office of the Federal Register, National Archives and Records Administration since 1957 in response to a recommendation by the National Historical Publications Commission. Noting the lack of uniform compilations of messages and papers of the presidents before this time, the Commission recommended the establishment of an official series in which presidential writings, addresses and remarks of a public nature could be made available.

The CFR Title 3 series contains the full text of presidential proclamations, executive orders, and certain other presidential documents promulgated during 1936-2001. This series of presidential compilations is published under Title 3 of the Code of Federal Regulations and designed to cover the text of formal presidential documents under the Federal Register Act.

The Daily Compilation of Presidential Documents is issued through the Office of the Federal Register and contains statements, messages and other Presidential material released by the White House. It also includes: speeches, press conferences, press releases, proclamations, executive orders, acts approved by the President, and many more documents. Also included is the predecessor title, Weekly Compilation of Presidential Documents.

This collection also contains a number of other titles, including the Economic Report of the President, Hearings Before the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, Public Papers and Address of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, U.S. Wickersham Commission Reports, and the U.S. National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement.
Notable titles included in the U.S. Presidential Library:
